

During a short stay in England, I learned that the chair of Semitic languages at Columbia University, formerly held by Prof. Gottheil, is now vacant. If it is true that this position remains unfilled, would you be so kind as to consider me as a candidate for the post.

Until 1935 I was engaged as Professor of Semitic Philology at Leipzig University. Being Jewish, I was then dismissed from my professorship in Leipzig. At present I am engaged by the newly founded university in Ankara, Turkey. I am forty-six years old.

I am a specialist in Assyriology